About This Game

Hello dear friend. Thank you for your interest in our project.

The idea of the game originated back in 2015. At the end of December, we successfully passed greenlight, but due to unavoidable circumstances the development has dragged on, and has even been frozen for a while.

Competition has forced us to accelerate the pace, but not to turn off the chosen path!

Now the game is in the early access, and we welcome any of your suggestions and comments.

What can be done in "Video Blogger Story" right now?

1. Recreate yourself or your favorite blogger. Give your character not only similar appearance, but also any combination of characteristics
2. Try various combinations of characteristics and emotions for video capturing. Find the best choice for a variety of genres
 3. Make let's plays of 170+ games
 4. Get feedback from the audience and learn how spectators will react to a particular characteristic
 5. Choose your own approach to the production of videos: fast and frequent or slow, but qualitatively
 6. Decide what is more important at the moment – high income from advertising or audience loyalty
 7. Make high quality videos and get into the «Up and Coming»
8. Encounter with both positive and negative events. Take the challenge and learn how it will affect the channel's popularity
 9. See how negative reaction of audience can affect the motivation and quality of filming
 10. Find your own way to the TOP10

What will be in the first updates of "Video Blogger Story"

- The ability to make “streams”
 - Upgraded comment system with the introduction of useful tips
 - Improved system of subscribers and views collecting, integrated with the time

How will the final version of "Video Blogger Story" look like?

- Instead of let's plays the ability to make vlogs, reviews and pranks
- The variety of subjects and locations for outside filming will make it available to get your own theme
- It will be possible to organize a real studio with professional equipment, to get additional characters to your videos or to make your own team
- The new in-game social network will appear and a magazine about UTube's life
- And, of course, lots of other things which we keep in secret ;)

Your character can become a video blogger of any genre. Create an ordinary doodle or your own virtual incarnation! The only limit is your imagination! Forward, to the top of UTube!

The game isn't super bad ... it's just ... don't waste your time or money on this game.

The major problems for me with this game are as listed below:

1. Very bad English translation

-The whole game is basically text focused, the "comments" and descriptions on everything reads as if the game was made in another language and all the text was just thrown into google translator, so it's just really bad...

2. The gameplay

-The gameplay consists of buying new games and stuff to use while streaming/making videos, I'm not sure what you do when creating videos but when you stream the game is basically just a rhythm game without rhythm, the buttons you need to press come down a grid and when the line matches up you click it, as simple and boring as that.

So as mentioned above this basically makes the game an incoherent boring mess, oh and the devs have long since abandoned the game as the last update came out the 25th of November 2016... As such, I rate this game a 1.5/5 ... wooh
